PROSPECTUS.

The St. Louis University, an educational institution with literary, scientific and philosophical courses of study, was founded in 1829, by members of the Society of Jesus. It was incorporated by an act of the State Legislature of Missouri, on December 28, 1832, under the name and style of St. Louis University, and empowered to confer degrees and academical honors in all the learned professions, and generally, "to have and enjoy all the powers, rights and privileges exercised by literary institutions of the same rank." Originally situated on Washington avenue, between Ninth and Eleventh streets, in the City of St. Louis, it was transferred in 1888 to its present location, on Grand avenue and West Pine boulevard.

The undergraduate studies pursued in the University comprise the Doctrines and Evidences of the Catholic Religion; Logic, Metaphysics, Ethics; a complete course of classical training in Latin, Greek and English; Astronomy, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Mathematics; History, Geography; Commercial Law, Book-keeping, German and French.

The method of distributing these courses is explained more at large in this catalogue, under the special heading Courses of Instruction. The object aimed at, in the system of teaching and training, is to develop all the mental and moral faculties of the students by means of a liberal education. This is attained through the discipline of a regular college curriculum.

The present catalogue contains a report of the undergraduate courses alone. For graduation, it is necessary to complete the full set of courses, comprised under the heading, Classical Curriculum, in the chapter on The Courses of Instruction.

The degree conferred is that of Bachelor of Arts, which is attained by giving satisfaction in the examinations held at the end of the Curriculum. The degree of Master of Arts may be obtained subsequently, by devoting a second year to the continued study of Philosophy in the institution, or by two years of application to the pursuit of a learned profession. Students of the Commercial Curriculum, as laid down in the chapter referred to, receive an Honorary Certificate on completing their studies.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

The Scholastic Year. The scholastic year consists of one session of ten months, beginning on the first Monday in September, and closing on the last Wednesday in June. The session is divided into two terms, one ending on or about the first day of February, the other, with the Annual Commencement Exercises, in the last week of June.

Admission. Every candidate for admission, who is not personally known to some member of the Faculty, must present testimonials of his good moral character. If he comes from another college, he will be required to bring a certificate of his good standing in the institution which he has left. The religious opinions professsd by any one form no obstacle to his admission. Still, all will be expected to show a respectful conformity, in the ordinary exercises of public prayer at the College.

Grading and Promotion. When a student is admitted into the College, he is examined by the Prefect of Studies, and placed in the class for which his previous attainments have qualified him. Promotions ordinarily take place at the beginning of the first term. Students, however, may be advanced to a higher class at any time; in which case the promotion is held to be equivalent to receiving the honors of the lower class, and is recorded in the annual catalogue.

Examinations, Quarterly and Annual. The progress of each student is inspected and his standing in class determined by partial examinations, called competitions, which are held four times a year, and by the annual examination, held at the close of the year Failure in showing the prescribed degree of proficiency which is required at the annual examination, will debar the student from advancing to a higher class. In the class of philosophy, which terminates in graduation, only two of these tests are applied, each being a full examination of a half-year's work.

Reports of Class-Standing. Several times a year reports are sent to parents or guardians, informing them of the conduct and progress of their sons or wards. Special attention is called to the article in the College Rules subjoined, with regard to the co-operation, expected by the College authorities, from the responsible persons who receive these reports.

Home-Study and Daily Lessons. All the endeavors of the officers and faculty will fail to insure success, unless the students apply to their studies, with diligence and constancy, outside of class-hours. It is, therefore, respectfully urged upon parents that they themselves require their sons to devote two or three hours every evening to the study of their class-lessons; and that, in case of non-compliance on the part of the students, they notify the Prefect of Studies, or Vice-President. Students who come without their lessons prepared, or their written exercise ready, are looked upon as morally absent; and, like absentees, they must bring written excuses from their parents, to save themselves from censure on this head.

Regularity and Punctuality. Students must not be kept at home, nor detained, on school-days, except for grave reasons; in which case, as also in case of tardiness a note of excuse from the responsible persons is invariably required. Frequent absence or tardiness, except on account of illness, is sufficient cause for permanent dismissal. The interests of each student, as well as of the whole class to which he belongs, are involved in the observance of order, punctuality and regularity.

Politeness. The College expects from all its students the manners and deportment of young gentlemen, and endeavors to advance the practice of perfect decorum at all times and everywhere within the premises. For conduct outside of the premises it does not hold itself responsible. In justice to itself, however, it must take cognizance of any serious charge against a student, for misconduct outside, if substantiated.

Discipline. Any serious neglect of points so essential to the proper conduct of the Institution as punctual attendance, strict obedience, assiduous application and blameless conduct will be visited on the offender with effective correction, and even with permanent dismissal, if this be deemed necessary. The COLLEGE RULES lay down what is expected of the students by the Faculty of this Institution.

Cadet Drill. An officer of the U. S. Army, whose name and rank are to be seen in the list of the Faculty, has been detailed by the President of the United States as Professor of Military Science and Tactics at the St. Louis University. The regular military drill of this department, with calisthenic exercises, promotes the physical development of the students, propriety of bearing, and habits of order, precision and obedience. The cadets enrolled in the battalion contract no obligation to be called upon for military service, either by the State or the general government. Admission into the cadet battalion is granted to students by the authorities of the University, on receiving the written consent of parents or guardians. The enrollment of a student as cadet must be for a term of at least two years, supposing that he remains at the College; otherwise the full advantages of the training would not be secured. The government supplying the arms and accoutrements, and the University meeting other incidental expenses, it devolves on each cadet to furnish his own uniform, which is of a style to serve at all times as an ordinary dress-suit. See under the heading, EXPENSES. For the organization of the cadet battalion, its companies and officers, see under the heading MILITARY ORGANIZATION.

Responsible Guardians. No boarders or half-boarders are received at the College. Students who board in the city must have guardians to whom the authorities can easily refer, as well for matters concerning the school-training as for business arrangements. The President or Vice-President should be promptly informed of any change of address.

Withdrawal of Students. When the withdrawal of students is contemplated, due notice should be given to the College authorities.

Morals and Religion. To attain the satisfactory results of complete culture, both mentally and morally, the educational system of the St. Louis University combines the careful practice of religious duties with the exercises in literary and scientific studies. Catholic students are required to approach the Sacraments of Penance and the Holy Eucharist at least once a month. In conformity with the practice of other Colleges, those pupils who have not made their First Communion, but have attained the proper age, will receive all preparatory instructions, and receive Holy Communion, under the direction of the College Faculty.

COLLEGE RULES.

Such of the College Rules as it is important for parents and guardians to know, are subjoined here: —

Hours of Attendance and Dismissal.

The University is open every morning at eight o'clock. Those who arrive before the time for the first duty proceed at once to the Study-hall, and devote the interval to private study. All are required to be present five minutes before half-past eight o'clock, at which hour the Catholic students hear Mass. At nine o'clock, a. m., the regular exercises of class begin, closing at three o'clock, p. m.

The Noon-Recess.

Those who do not go home during noon-recess, from 11:50 to 12:45, remain under College supervision. A lunch room is provided for the accommodation of such as bring their lunch with them. If any buy their lunch or take it outside of the College, they are required to report within the precincts immediately afterwards.

Detention after Class-Hours.

It is understood that the students return home when the College doors are closed. Classes being over at three p. m., a boy may be detained for sufficient cause by his Professor, or he is allowed to recreate on the grounds till four o'clock; the cadet drill or instruction ends at four o'clock; then the College is closed. Attendance at the drill on stated days, three times a week, is as strictly obligatory for the cadets as attendance at the ordinary classes.

The Weekly Recreation.

Thursday is the weekly recreation day. As it is intended for a certain amount of relaxation in the middle of the week, it is understood that the day is not to be spent in idleness, but must have its own share of study. It is counted on by Professors, no less than Sunday, as affording more leisure, particularly for composition. If these days are allowed to be whiled away in mere idleness or distraction, the lessons of Mondays and Fridays are found to be less well prepared than those of other days.

Reports: Cards, Etc.

The reports sent home at certain periods by the Prefect of Studies should be returned at once, signed by parent or guardian. The time devoted by the student to home-study should be carefully stated, as the report requires, and as the interests of the pupil demand. The Professor receives thereby some guidance for the formation of his judgment. Cards, or testimonials of good conduct and diligence, are given monthly, and should be demanded by parents on the first day of every month. Notices of absence, sent by the Vice-President, should be answered immediately, in the sense of the information desired regarding the absentee

Rewards and Annual Premiums.

The results of the first three quarterly tests or competitions in October, December and February, are read out in presence of the Faculty and the entire body of students. Rewards are given for excellence; and the names of those who have distinguished themselves are announced. At the end of June, on occasion of the public annual commencement, medals and premiums are bestowed for excellence in the work of the whole year. The conditions for gaining these honors are mentioned briefly in this catalogue, under the heading, ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT: AWARD OF PREMIUMS.

UNIVERSITY POST-GRADUATE COURSE.

The object of this course is primarily to enable College graduates to continue their philosophical, scientific, historical and literary studies. Attendance is, however, not restricted to graduates. All gentlemen who can follow the lectures with profit and interest are admitted. The great issues of the day are elucidated and discussed. While the treatment of themes is highly scientific, simplicity of method and style is industriously preserved. Professional gentlemen will find the course of the greatest utility, and business men will derive from the lectures an intimate acquaintance with the questions that agitate the world of science and of learning.

Degrees are conferred at the end of the course, but only on such gentlemen as have already received academic honors. The degrees obtainable are those of Master of Arts and Bachelor of Philosophy. For the former, one year's attendance is required; for the latter, two.

Application for a degree can be made only after regular attendance at the lectures and should be submitted at least two months before the close of the session. An essay, on some assigned topic, will be required from each applicant.

The course opens on the second Monday in October, and closes about the middle of April, with an intermission of three weeks at Christmas. The lectures have been delivered on Monday and Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock.

Season ticket for the entire course	$10 00
Fee for Diploma	10 00

A select public has been admitted to some lectures, in which certain prominent subjects, belonging to Post-Graduate studies, have been presented in a more popular form.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION.

The Courses of Instruction are distributed into the Classical Curriculum and the Commercial Curriculum.

I.

CLASSICAL CURRICULUM.

The Classical Curriculum is designed to impart a thorough liberal education. In the accomplishment of this purpose the Ancient Classics hold the first place as the most effcient instrument of mental discipline. Besides Latin, Greek and English, the Curriculum embraces Religious Instruction, Mental and Moral Philosophy, Astronomy and Mathematics, History, Literature and the Natural Sciences—in a word, all the usual branches of a complete education. It has been found, by long experience, that the Classical Curriculum alone fully develops all the faculties, forms a correct taste, teaches the student how to use all his powers to the best advantage, and prepares him to excel in any pursuit, whether professional or commercial

The Curriculum is divided into two departments, Collegiate and Academic.

PROSPECTUS.

The St. Louis University, an educational institution with literary, scientific and philosophical courses of study, was founded in 1829, by members of the Society of Jesus. It was incorporated by an act of the State Legislature of Missouri, on December 28, 1832, under the name and style of St. Louis University, and empowered to confer degrees and academical honors in all the learned professions, and generally, "to have and enjoy all the powers, rights and privileges exercised by literary institutions of the same rank." It is situated in the City of St. Louis; originally on Washington avenue between Ninth and Eleventh Streets, it was transferred in 1888 to its present location on Grand Avenue and West Pine Boulevard.

The undergraduate studies pursued in the University comprise the Doctrines and Evidences of the Catholic Religion; Logic, Metaphysics, Ethics; a complete course of classical training in Latin, Greek and English; Astronomy, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Mathematics; History, Geography; Commercial Law, Bookkeeping; German and French.

The method of distributing these courses is explained more at large in this catalogue, under the special heading, Courses of Instruction. The object aimed at in the system of teaching and training, is to develop all the mental and moral faculties of the students by means of a liberal education. This is attained through the discipline of a regular college curriculum.

The present catalogue contains a report of the undergraduate courses alone. For graduation, it is necessary to complete the full set of courses comprised under the heading, Classical Curriculum, in the chapter on The Courses of Instruction.

The degree conferred is that of Bachelor of Arts, which is attained by giving satisfaction in the examinations held at the end of the Curriculum. The degree of Master of Arts may be obtained subsequently, by devoting a second year to the continued study of Philosophy in the institution, or by two years of application to the pursuit of a learned profession. Students of the Commercial Curriculum receive an Honorary Certificate on completing the studies of their course.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

The Scholastic Year. The scholastic year consists of one session of ten months, beginning on the first Monday in September, and closing on the last Wednesday in June. The session is divided into two terms, one ending on or about the first day of February, the other, with the Annual Commencement Exercises, in the last week of June.

Admission. Every candidate for admission who is not personally known to some member of the Faculty, must present testimonials of his good moral character. If he comes from another college, he will be required to bring a certificate of his good standing in the institution which he has left. The religious opinions professed by any one form no obstacle to his admission. Still, all will be expected to show a respectful conformity in the ordinary exercises of public prayer at the College.

Grading and Promotion. When a student is admitted into the College, he is examined by the Prefect of Studies, and placed in the class for which his previous attainments have qualified him. Promotions ordinarily take place at the beginning of the first term; however, students may be advanced to a higher class at any time; in which case the promotion is held to be equivalent to receiving the honors of the lower class, and is recorded in the annual catalogue.

Examinations, Quarterly and Annual. The progress of each student is inspected and his standing in class determined by partial examinations, called competitions, which are held four times a year, and by the annual examination, held at the close of the year. Failure in showing the prescribed degree of proficiency which is required at the annual examination, will debar the student from advancing to a higher class. In the class of philosophy, which terminates in graduation, only two of these tests are applied, each being a full examination of a half-year's work.

Reports of Class-Standing. Several times a year reports are sent to parents or guardians, informing them of the conduct and progress of their sons or wards. Special attention is called to the article in the College Rules subjoined, with regard to the co-operation expected by the College authorities, from the responsible persons who receive these reports.

Home-Study and Daily Lessons. All the endeavors of the officers and faculty will fail to insure success, unless the students apply to their studies with diligence and constancy outside of class hours. It is, therefore, respectfully urged upon parents that they themselves require their sons to devote two or three hours every evening to the study of their class-lessons; and that in case of non-compliance on the part of the students, they notify the Prefect of Studies, or Vice-President. Lessons gotten in a hurry are soon forgotten; they have no educational value, as they do not train the mind. Lessons can not be prepared at College; the short time allowed for study between class hours is barely sufficient to review what has already been studied at home. Students who come without their lessons prepared, or their written exercise ready, are looked upon as morally absent; and like absentees, they must bring written excuses from their parents, to save themselves from censure on this head.

Regularity and Punctuality. Students must not be kept at home, nor detained, on school-days, except for grave reasons; in which case, as also in case of tardiness, a note of excuse from the responsible persons is invariably required. Frequent absence or tardiness, except on account of illness, is sufficient cause for permanent dismissal. The interests of each student, as well as of the whole class to which he belongs, are involved in the observance of order, punctuality and regularity.

Politeness. The College expects from all its students the manners and deportment of young gentlemen, and endeavors to advance the practice of perfect decorum at all times and everywhere within the premises. For conduct outside of the premises it does not hold itself responsible. In justice to itself, however, it must take cognizance of any serious charge against a student for misconduct outside.

Discipline. Any serious neglect of points so essential to the proper conduct of the Institution as punctual attendance, strict obedience, assiduous application and blameless conduct, will be visited on the offender with effective correction, and even with permanent dismissal, if this be deemed necessary. The College Rules lay down what is expected of the students by the Faculty of this Institution.

Cadet Drill. An officer of the U. S. Army, whose name and rank are to be seen in the list of the Faculty, has been detailed by the President of the United States as Professor of Military Science and Tactics at the St. Louis University. The regular military drill of this department, with calisthenic exercises, promotes the physical development of the students, propriety of bearing, and habits of order, precision and obedience. The cadets enrolled in the battalion contract no obligation to be called upon for military service, either by the State or the general government. Admission into the cadet batallion is granted to students by the authorities of the University, on receiving the written consent of parents or guardians. The enrollment of a student as cadet must be for a term of at least two years, supposing that he remains at the College; otherwise the full advantages of the training would not be secured. The government supplying the arms and accoutrements, and the University meeting other incidental expenses, it devolves on each cadet to furnish his own uniform, which is of a style to serve at all times as an ordinary dress-suit. See under the heading Expenses. For the organization of the cadet batallion, its companies and officers, see under the heading, Military Organization.

Responsible Guardians. No boarders or half-boarders are received at the College. Students who board in the city must have guardians to whom the authorities can easily refer, as well for matters concerning the school-training as for business arrangements. The President or Vice-President should be promptly informed of any change of address.

Withdrawal of Students. When the withdrawal of students is contemplated, due notice should be given to the College authorities.

Morals and Religion. To attain the satisfactory results of complete culture, both mental and moral, the educational system of the St. Louis University combines the careful practice of religious duties with the pursuit of literary and scientific studies. Catholic students are required to approach the Sacraments of Penance and Holy Eucharist at least once a month. In conformity with the practice of other Colleges, those pupils who have not made their First Communion, but have attained the proper age, will receive all preparatory instructions, and receive Holy Communion, under the direction of the College Faculty.

COLLEGE RULES.

Such of the College Rules as it is important for parents and guardians to know, are subjoined here:—

Hours of Attendance and Dismissal. The University is open every morning at eight o'clock. Those who arrive before the time for the first duty proceed at once to the Study-hall, and devote the interval to private study. All are required to be present five minutes before half-past eight o'clock, at which hour the Catholic students hear Mass. The regular exercises of class begin at nine o'clock, a. m., and close at three o'clock, p. m.

The Noon-Recess. Those who do not go home during noon-recess, from 11:50 to 12:45, remain under College supervision. A lunch room is provided for the accommodation of such as bring their lunch with them. If any buy their lunch or take it outside of the College, they are required to report within the precincts immediately afterwards.

Detention after Class-Hours. It is understood that the students return home when the College doors are closed. Classes being over at three p. m., a boy may be detained for sufficient cause by his Professor; or he may be allowed to recreate on the grounds till four o'clock.

The Weekly Recreation. Thursday is the weekly recreation day. While it is intended for a certain amount of relaxation in the middle of the week, it is understood that the day is not to be spent in idleness, but must have its own share of study. It is counted on by Professors, no less than Sunday, as affording more leisure, particularly for composition. If these days are allowed to be whiled away in mere idleness or distraction, the lessons of Mondays and Fridays are found to be less well prepared than those of other days.

Reports, Cards, Etc.

The reports sent home at certain periods by the Prefect of Studies should be returned at once, signed by parent or guardian. The time devoted by the student to home-study should be carefully stated, as the report requires, and as the interests of the pupil demand. The Professor receives thereby some guidance for the formation of his judgment. Cards, or testimonials of good conduct and diligence, are given monthly, and should be demanded by parents on the first day of every month. Notices of absence sent by the Vice-President, should be answered immediately, in the sense of the information desired regarding the absentee.

Rewards and Annual Premiums.

The results of the first three quarterly tests or competitions in October, December and February, are read out in presence of the Faculty and the entire body of students. Rewards are given for excellence; and the names of those who have distinguished themselves are announced. At the end of June, on occasion of the public annual commencement, medals and premiums are bestowed for excellence in the work of the whole year. The conditions for gaining these honors are mentioned briefly in this catalogue, under the heading, ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT: AWARD OF PREMIUMS.

UNIVERSITY POST-GRADUATE COURSE.

The object of this course is primarily to enable College graduates to continue their philosophical, scientific, historical and literary studies. Attendance is, however, not restricted to graduates. All gentlemen who can follow the lectures with profit and interest are admitted. The great issues of the day are elucidated and discussed. While the treatment of themes is highly scientific, simplicity of method and style is industriously preserved. Professional gentlemen will find the course of the greatest utility, and business men will derive from the lectures an intimate acquaintance with the questions that agitate the world of science and of learning.

Degrees are conferred at the end of the course, but only on such gentlemen as have already received academic honors. The degrees obtainable are those of Master of Arts and Bachelor of Philosophy. For the former, one year's attendance is required; for the latter, two.

Application for a degree can be made only after regular attendance at the lectures, and should be submitted at least two months before the close of the session. An examination, and an essay on some assigned topic, will be required from each applicant.

The course opens on the second Monday in October, and closes about the middle of April, with an intermission of three weeks at Christmas. The lectures have been delivered on Monday and Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock.

Season ticket for the entire course	$10 00
Fee for Diploma	10 00

A select public has been admitted to some lectures, in which certain prominent subjects, belonging to Post-Graduate studies, have been presented in a more popular form.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION.

The Courses of Instruction are distributed into the Classical Curriculum and the Commercial Curriculum.

I.

CLASSICAL CURRICULUM.

The Classical Curriculum is designed to impart a thorough liberal education. In the accomplishment of this purpose the Ancient Classics hold the first place as the most efficient instrument of mental discipline. Besides Latin, Greek and English, the Curriculum embraces Religious Instruction, Mental and Moral Philosophy, Astronomy and Mathematics, History, Literature and the Natural Sciences—in a word, all the usual branches of a complete education. It has been found by long experience, that the Classical Curriculum alone fully develops all the faculties, forms a correct taste, teaches the student how to use all his powers to the best advantage, and prepares him to excel in any pursuit, whether professional or commercial.

The Curriculum is divided into two departments, Collegiate and Academic.

PROSPECTUS.

The St. Louis University, an educational institution with literary, scientific and philosophical courses of study, was founded in 1829, by members of the Society of Jesus. It was incorporated by an act of the State Legislature of Missouri, on December 28, 1832, under the name and style of St. Louis University, and empowered to confer degrees and academical honors in all the learned professions, and generally, "to have and enjoy all the powers, rights and privileges exercised by literary institutions of the same rank." Situated in the City of St. Louis, originally on Washington avenue between Ninth and Eleventh Streets, the University was transferred in 1888 to its present location on Grand Avenue and West Pine Boulevard.

The undergraduate studies pursued in the University comprise the Doctrines and Evidences of the Catholic Religion; Logic, Metaphysics, Ethics; a complete course of classical training in Latin, Greek and English; Astronomy, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Mathematics; History, Geography; Commercial Law, Bookkeeping; German and French.

The method of distributing these courses is explained more at large in this catalogue, under the special heading, Courses of Instruction. The object aimed at in the system of teaching and training is to develop all the mental and moral faculties of the students by means of a liberal education. This is attained through the discipline of a regular college curriculum.

The present catalogue contains a report of the undergraduate courses alone. For graduation, it is necessary to complete the full set of courses comprised under the heading, Classical Curriculum, in the chapter on The Courses of Instruction.

The degree conferred is that of Bachelor of Arts, which is attained by giving satisfaction in the examinations held at the end of the Curriculum. The degree of Master of Arts may be obtained subsequently, by devoting a second year to the continued study of Philosophy in the institution, or by two years of application to the pursuit of a learned profession. Students of the Commercial Curriculum receive an Honorary Certificate on completing the studies of their course.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

The Scholastic Year. The scholastic year consists of one session of ten months, beginning on the first Monday in September, and closing on the last Wednesday in June. The session is divided into two terms, one ending on or about the first day of February, the other, with the Annual Commencement Exercises, in the last week of June.

Admission. Every candidate for admission who is not personally known to some member of the Faculty, must present testimonials of his good moral character. If he comes from another college, he will be required to bring a certificate of his good standing in the institution which he has left. The religious opinions professed by any one form no obstacle to his admission. Still, all will be expected to show a respectful conformity in the ordinary exercises of public prayer at the College.

Grading and Promotion. When a student is admitted into the College, he is examined by the Prefect of Studies, and placed in the class for which his previous attainments have qualified him. Promotions ordinarily take place at the beginning of the first term; however, students may be advanced to a higher class at any time; in which case the promotion is held to be equivalent to receiving the honors of the lower class, and is recorded in the annual catalogue.

Examinations, Quarterly and Annual. The progress of each student is inspected and his standing in class determined by partial examinations, called competitions, which are held four times a year, and by the annual examination, held at the close of the year. Failure in showing the prescribed degree of proficiency which is required at the annual examination, will debar the student from advancing to a higher class. In the class of philosophy, which terminates in graduation, only two of these tests are applied, each being a full examination of a half-year's work.

Reports of Class-Standing.

Several times a year reports are sent to parents or guardians, informing them of the conduct and progress of their sons or wards. Special attention is called to the article in the College Rules subjoined, with regard to the co-operation expected by the College authorities, from the responsible persons who receive these reports.

Home-Study and Daily Lessons.

All the endeavors of the officers and faculty will fail to insure success, unless the students apply to their studies with diligence and constancy outside of class-hours. It is, therefore, respectfully urged upon parents that they themselves require their sons to devote two or three hours every evening to the study of their class-lessons; and that in case of non-compliance on the part of the students, they notify the Prefect of Studies, or Vice-President. Lessons gotten in a hurry are soon forgotten; they have no educational value, as they do not train the mind. Lessons can not be prepared at College; the short time allowed for study between class-hours is barely sufficient to review what has already been studied at home. Students who come without their lessons prepared, or their written exercise ready, are looked upon as morally absent; and like absentees, they must bring written excuses from their parents, to save themselves from censure on this head.

Regularity and Punctuality.

Students must not be kept at home, nor detained, on school-days, except for grave reasons; in which case, as also in case of tardiness, a note of excuse from the responsible persons is invariably required. Frequent absence or tardiness, except on account of illness, is sufficient cause for permanent dismissal. The interests of each student, as well as of the whole class to which he belongs, are involved in the observance of order, punctuality and regularity.

Politeness.

The College expects from all its students the manners and deportment of young gentlemen, and endeavors to advance the practice of perfect decorum at all times and everywhere within the premises. For conduct outside of the premises it does not hold itself responsible. In justice to itself, however, it must take cognizance of any serious charge against a student for misconduct outside.

Discipline. Any serious neglect of points so essential to the proper conduct of the Institution as punctual attendance, strict obedience, assiduous application and blameless conduct, will be visited on the offender with effective correction, and even with permanent dismissal, if this be deemed necessary. The College Rules lay down what is expected of the students by the Faculty of this Institution.

Cadet Drill. An officer of the U. S. Army, whose name and rank are to be seen in the list of the Faculty, has been detailed by the President of the United States as Professor of Military Science and Tactics at the St. Louis University. The regular military drill of this department, with calisthenic exercises, promotes the physical development of the students, propriety of bearing, and habits of order, precision and obedience. The cadets enrolled in the battalion contract no obligation to be called upon for military service, either by the State or the general government. Military drill is obligatory upon the students of the Collegiate Department and upon the students of the first and second Commercial Classes. Admission into the cadet battalion is granted to other students by the authorities of the University, on receiving the written consent of parents or guardians. The enrollment of a student as cadet must be for a term of at least two years, supposing that he remains at the College; otherwise the full advantages of the training would not be secured. The government supplying the arms and accoutrements, and the University meeting other incidental expenses, it devolves on each cadet to furnish his own uniform, which is of a style to serve at all times as an ordinary dress-suit. See under the heading, Expenses. For the organization of the cadet battalion, its companies and officers, see under the heading, Military Organization.

Responsible Guardians. No boarders or half-boarders are received at the College. Students who board in the city must have guardians to whom the authorities can easily refer, as well for matters concerning the school-training as for business arrangements. The President or Vice-President should be promptly informed of any change of address.

Withdrawal of Students.

When the withdrawal of students is contemplated, due notice should be given to the College authorities.

Morals and Religion.

To attain the satisfactory results of complete culture, both mental and moral, the educational system of the St. Louis University combines the careful practice of religious duties with the pursuit of literary and scientific studies. Catholic students are required to approach the Sacraments of Penance and Holy Eucharist at least once a month. In conformity with the practice of other Colleges, those pupils who have not made their First Communion, but have attained the proper age, will receive all preparatory instructions, and receive Holy Communion, under the direction of the College Faculty.

COLLEGE RULES.

Some of the more important rules are subjoined here:—

Hours of Attendance and Dismissal.

The University is open every morning at eight o'clock. Those who arrive before the time for the first duty proceed at once to the Study-hall, and devote the interval to private study. All are required to be present five minutes before half-past eight o'clock, at which hour the Catholic students hear Mass. The regular exercises of class begin at nine o'clock a. m., and close at three o'clock p. m. Students are allowed to recreate on the College grounds until four o'clock.

The Noon Recess.

Those who do not go home during noon recess, from 11:50 to 12:45, remain under College supervision. A lunch room is provided for the accommodation of such as bring their lunch with them. If any buy their lunch or take it outside of the College, they are required to report within the precincts immediately afterwards.

Detention after Class-Hours.

It is understood that the students return home when the College doors are closed. Classes being over at three p. m., a boy may be detained for sufficient cause by his professor.

The Weekly Recreation.

Thursday is the weekly recreation day. While it is intended for a certain amount of relaxation in the middle of the week, it is understood that the day is not to be spent in idleness, but must have its own share of study. It is counted on by Professors, no less than Sunday, as affording more leisure, particularly for composition. If these days are allowed to be whiled away in mere idleness or distraction, the lessons of Mondays and Fridays are found to be less well prepared than those of other days.

Reports, Cards, Etc.

The reports sent home at certain periods by the Prefect of Studies should be returned at once signed by parent or guardian. The time devoted by the student to home-study should be carefully stated, as the report requires, and as the interests of the pupil demand. The Professor receives thereby some guidance for the formation of his judgment. Cards, or testimonials of good conduct and diligence, are given monthly, and should be demanded by parents on the first day of every month. Notices of absence sent by the Vice-President should be answered immediately, in the sense of the information desired regarding the absentee.

Rewards and Annual Premiums.

The results of the first three quarterly tests or competitions in October, December and February, are read out in presence of the Faculty and the entire body of students. Rewards are given for excellence; and the names of those who have distinguished themselves are announced. At the end of June, on occasion of the public annual commencement, medals and premiums are bestowed for excellence in the work of the whole year. The conditions for gaining these honors are mentioned briefly in this catalogue under the heading, ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT; AWARDS OF PREMIUMS.

UNIVERSITY POST-GRADUATE COURSE.

The object of this course is primarily to enable College graduates to continue their philosophical, scientific, historical and literary studies. Attendance is, however, not restricted to graduates. All gentlemen who can follow the lectures with profit and interest are admitted. The great issues of the day are elucidated and discussed. While the treatment of themes is highly scientific, simplicity of method and style is industriously preserved. Professional gentlemen will find the course of the greatest utility, and business men will derive from the lectures an intimate acquaintance with the questions that agitate the world of science and of learning.

Degrees are conferred at the end of the course, but only on such gentlemen as have already received academic honors. The degrees obtainable are those of Master of Arts and Bachelor of Philosophy. For the former, one year's attendance is required; for the latter, two.

Application for a degree can be made only after regular attendance at the lectures, and should be submitted at least two months before the close of the session. An examination, and an essay on some assigned topic, will be required from each applicant.

The course opens on the second Monday in October, and closes about the middle of April, with an intermission of three weeks at Christmas. The lectures have been delivered on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at 8 o'clock.

Season ticket for the entire course..................	$10 00
Fee for Diploma..................................	10 00

A select public has been admitted to some lectures, in which certain prominent subjects, belonging to Post-Graduate studies, have been presented in a more popular form.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION.

The Courses of Instruction are distributed into the Classical Curriculum and the Commercial Curriculum.

I.

CLASSICAL CURRICULUM.

Besides Latin, Greek and English, the Curriculum embraces Religious Instruction, Mental and Moral Philosophy, Astronomy and Mathematics, History, Literature and the Natural Sciences—in a word, all the usual branches of a complete education. It has been found by long experience, that the Classical Curriculum alone fully develops all the faculties, forms a correct taste, teaches the student how to use all his powers to the best advantage, and prepares him to excel in any pursuit, whether professional or commercial.

The Curriculum is divided into two departments, Collegiate and Academic.

PROSPECTUS.

The St. Louis College was founded by the Jesuit Fathers in 1828; classes were opened in November, 1829, and before the close of the scholastic year one hundred and forty-nine pupils had been entered on the College record. In 1832, December 28th, the Legislature of Missouri granted a charter to the institution by "an Act to Incorporate the St. Louis University," by which instrument it was empowered to confer degrees and academic honors in all the learned professions and generally "to have and enjoy all the powers, rights and privileges exercised by literary institutions of the same rank." The first regular faculty, under the charter, organized on April 4th, 1833; Rev. P. J. Verhaegen, S. J., was the first President. On July 31st, 1834, three graduates received the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Situated in the City of St. Louis, originally on Washington Avenue, between Ninth and Eleventh Streets, the University was transferred in 1888 to its present location on Grand Avenue and West Pine Boulevard.

REQUIREMENTS FOR DEGREES.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science is conferred upon those who pass satisfactory examinations in the Mathematical, Scientific and Philosophical Departments.

For the Degree of Bachelor of Arts, the successful completion of the entire College Course, as outlined below.

The Degree of Master of Arts in Course can be obtained by devoting a second year to the study of Philosophy in the College or two years to professional studies.

The Degree of Bachelor or Doctor of Philosophy will be granted only to Masters of Arts after successful Post-Graduate Courses in Philosophy and Sciences. (See Post-Graduate.)

Honorary Degrees are conferred at the discretion of the Board of Trustees upon those who have deserved well of the community in Literature, or Science or the Professions.

Course of Studies for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts.

CLASSICAL COURSE.

UNIVERSITY POST-GRADUATE COURSE.

The object of this course is primarily to enable College graduates to continue their philosophical, scientific, historical and literary studies. Attendance is, however, not restricted to graduates. All gentlemen who can follow the lectures with profit and interest are admitted. The great issues of the day are elucidated and discussed. While the treatment of themes is highly scientific, simplicity of method and style is industriously preserved. Professional gentlemen will find the course of the greatest utility, and business men will derive from the lectures an intimate acquaintance with the questions that agitate the world of science and of learning.

Application for a degree can be made only after regular attendance at the lectures, and should be submitted at least two months before the close of the session. An examination, and an essay on some assigned topic, will be required from each applicant.

The course opens on the second Monday in October, and closes about the middle of April, with an intermission of three weeks at Christmas. The lectures have been delivered on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at 8 o'clock.

Season ticket for the entire course......	$10 00
Fee for Diploma	10 00

A select public has been admitted to some lectures, in which certain prominent subjects, belonging to Post-Graduate studies, have been presented in a more popular form.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

An officer of the United States Army has been detailed by the President of the United States as professor of Military Science and Tactics at the St. Louis University. The regular Military drill of this department with Calisthenic exercises promotes the physical development of the students, propriety of bearing and habits of order, precision and obedience.

THE CADETS enrolled in the battalion contract no obligation to be called upon for military service, either by the State or General Government.

MILITARY DRILL IS OBLIGATORY upon all the students of the Collegiate Department and upon the students of the First and Second Commercial Classes; nor is any exemption granted in this matter unless for a sufficient reason which shall be determined by the physician in attendance at the University or the officer commanding.

MILITARY DRILL IS OPTIONAL for all other students, admission into the Cadet Battalion being granted to such by the authorities on receiving the written consent of parents or guardians. However, the enrolling of a student as a cadet must be for a term of at least two years, supposing that he remains at the College; as otherwise the full advantages of the training would not be secured.

The Government supplying the arms and accoutrements, and the University meeting other incidental expenses, it devolves on each cadet to furnish his own uniform, which is of a style to serve at all times as an ordinary dress suit. (See under the heading "Expenses.")

SOCIETIES.

Since its inception, the University has encouraged and maintained societies looking to the various interests of the students. The following societies deserve particular mention:

THE PHILALETHIC SOCIETY

was organized in 1832. Its object is to foster a taste for eloquence, history and general literature. The members assemble every week in their hall for debates, or for the discussion of carefully prepared essays.

THE SODALITY OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN

was erected in 1835. Its object is the promotion of piety and virtue among its members, by the practice of devotion towards the Blessed Virgin Mary. It comprises two distinct organizations, one for the Senior, and the other for the Junior students.

THE STUDENTS' FREE LIBRARY

was established to encourage useful reading. It possesses a choice collection of over 4000 volumes in the various departments of English literature, selected with a view to the needs of College students.

In connection with the Library is a reading-room which affords ample opportunities for acquiring information upon current topics and forming sound opinions upon important questions. Leading magazines, reviews and journals, and a valuable collection of works of reference are at the service of the members.

THE JUNIOR LITERARY SOCIETY.

Its object is to prepare its members for the Philalethic Society.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

Mens sana in corpore sano.

The object of this Association is to foster a college spirit, and to encourage healthy physical exercise.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

Organized in 1889, the Alumni Association has for its object "to strengthen the ties which unite the members to each other and to the Institution at which they were educated." The Constitution provides that any graduate or student of the St. Louis University may become a member of the Association, subject to the rules therein specified. Meetings for the purpose of social reunion are held in one of the College halls at stated times.

ALUMNI ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

Organized in 1899, the object of the Association is "to promote an interest among old students in the athletic supremacy of the St. Louis University, to encourage the members of the student body in athletic competition, to manage and control the athletic activities of the Institution and when necessary to furnish funds towards that end, and to foster a lively College spirit by attendance at contests in which St. Louis University athletes compete."

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the College, who are not personally known to some member of the faculty, must present testimonials of good moral character. Students who seek admission to advanced classes must pass a satisfactory examination upon all subjects previously studied by the class which they wish to enter.

For Admission to the Third Academic Class a successful examination will be required in the following subjects:

English Grammar—Orthography and Etymology. Goold Brown's Grammar or some work of equal grade.

Spelling—Of words used in ordinary polite conversation.

Arithmetic—Compound Numbers and Common and Decimal Fractions. (Ray's New Practical Arithmetic, or equivalent.)

Geography—The United States. (Appleton's Standard Elementary, or equivalent.)

For Entrance into the Preparatory Class:

1st. The applicant must know how to read, write and spell creditably.

2nd. He should know Arithmetic as far as Long Division included.

Examinations for admission are held the last week in August.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

The Academic Year consists of one session, beginning on the first Monday of September and ending in the last week of June, when the Annual Commencement, the Conferring of Degrees and the Distribution of Premiums take place.

Punctual attendance is strictly insisted upon.

Parents are regularly informed of the non-attendance of their sons, who, in case of absence, are invariably required to bring a note of excuse to the Vice-President. In order that the lessons may be prepared with proper assiduity, parents are requested to insist on their sons' studying at home for two or three hours every evening.

The daily work of the students counts one-half for honors.

The College is open every morning at 8 o'clock. Those who come before the time of class proceed at once to the classrooms, and devote the interval to private study. All are required to be present five minutes before 8:30 o'clock, at which hour the Catholic students hear Mass. At 9 o'clock a. m., the regular exercises of class commence, closing at about 3 p. m.

Thursday is the weekly recreation day.

Thorough written examinations are made in all the classes in October, December, February and April.

These examinations are competitive and are followed by distribution of premiums. The percentage obtained by the students is publicly proclaimed, and honors are awarded to the leaders.

A MEDAL OF EXCELLENCE is awarded to the student who makes the highest percentage in the collective branches of his class. Those who make 90 per cent. and upwards merit the distinction of FIRST HONORS, and those who gain between 85 and 90, SECOND HONORS. Besides these incentives to general endeavor, first and second prizes are given for excellence in each of the branches of every class, but the percentage must be at least 85 in the Collegiate Course, and 80 in the Academic. At the distribution of premiums testimonials of excellent deportment are given to deserving students. Reports of the conduct and class-standing of students are sent, after each distribution, to parents and guardians. The premiums at the close of the session are bestowed upon those who have made the highest average percentage in daily work and written examinations. The final written examinations for promotion take place in June. For the privilege of graduate's address at commencement a class-standing of 85 per cent. will be required.

Parents who wish to withdraw their sons before the end of the session are respectfully requested to give due notice of their intention to the Vice-President.

For faults committed outside the premises, the officers of the College are by no means responsible, as students then cease to be under their jurisdiction; still, should any serious charge be substantiated, the guilty shall be punished according to the gravity of the offense.

Whoever damages the College property must make compensation. The use of profane language or anything bordering on immorality will subject the offender to expulsion.

EXPENSES.

As the Institution is not endowed, it is entirely dependent for its support on the fees paid for tuition. Tuition, per session of ten months, for all classes, $60.00.

Students of Physics and Chemistry pay $10.00 per session for the lecture-table apparatus and $5.00 for laboratory materials. A small sum is deposited with the Treasurer for breakage.

Diplomas for the graduates in the Classical, Scientific and Post-Graduate Course, $10.00.

Certificate for the completion of the English Course, $5.00.

Cadet Suit, ranging from $9.50 to $17.50.

Payments must be made quarterly or semi-annually in advance. The account for tuition dates from the day of the student's entrance. No deduction is allowed for absence, except in case of dismissal or protracted illness. The session is divided into quarters, beginning respectively about the 1st of September, the 15th of November, the 1st of February, and the 15th of April.

For further information address the President of the University.

PROSPECTUS.

The St. Louis College was founded by the Jesuit Fathers in 1828; classes were opened in November, 1829, and before the close of the scholastic year one hundred and forty-nine pupils had been entered on the College record. In 1832, December 28th, the Legislature of Missouri granted a charter to the institution by "an Act to Incorporate the St. Louis University," by which instrument it was empowered to confer degrees and academic honors in all the learned professions and generally "to have and enjoy all the powers, rights and privileges exercised by literary institutions of the same rank." The first regular faculty, under the charter, organized on April 4th, 1833; Rev. P. J. Verhaegen, S. J., was the first President. On July 31st, 1834, three graduates received the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Situated in the City of St. Louis, originally on Washington Avenue, between Ninth and Eleventh Streets, the University was transferred in 1888 to its present location on Grand Avenue and West Pine Boulevard.

REQUIREMENTS FOR DEGREES.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science is conferred upon those who pass satisfactory examinations in the Mathematical, Scientific and Philosophical Departments.

For the Degree of Bachelor of Arts, the successful completion of the entire College Course, as outlined below.

The Degree of Master of Arts in Course can be obtained by devoting a second year to the study of Philosophy in the College or two years to professional study.

The Degree of Bachelor or Doctor of Philosophy will be granted only to Masters of Arts after successful Post-Graduate Courses in Philosophy and Sciences.

Honorary Degrees are conferred at the discretion of the Board of Trustees upon those who have deserved well of the community in Literature, or Science or the Professions.

Course of Studies for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts.

CLASSICAL COURSE.

The Classical Course is designed to impart a thorough liberal education. In the accomplishment of this purpose the ancient classics hold the first place as the most efficient instrument of mental discipline. Besides Latin, Greek and English, this course embraces Religious Instruction, Mental and Moral Philosophy, Astronomy and Mathematics, History, Literature, the Natural Sciences—in a word, all the usual branches of a complete education. Experience has proved that this is the only course that fully develops all the faculties, forms a correct taste, teaches the student how to use all his powers to the best advantage and prepares him to excel in any pursuit, whether professional or commercial.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

An officer of the United States Army has been detailed by the President of the United States as professor of Military Science and Tactics at the St. Louis University. The regular Military drill of this department with Calisthenic exercises promotes the physical development of the students, propriety of bearing and habits of order, precision and obedience.

THE CADETS enrolled in the battalion contract no obligation to be called upon for military service, either by the State or General Government.

MILITARY DRILL IS OBLIGATORY upon all the students of the Collegiate Department and upon the students of the First and Second Commercial Classes; nor is any exemption granted in this matter unless for a sufficient reason which shall be determined by the physician in attendance at the University or the officer commanding.

MILITARY DRILL IS OPTIONAL for all other students, admission into the Cadet Battalion being granted to such by the authorities on receiving the written consent of parents or guardians. However, the enrolling of a student as a cadet must be for a term of at least two years, supposing that he remains at the College; as otherwise the full advantages of the training would not be secured.

The Government supplying the arms and accoutrements, and the University meeting other incidental expenses, it devolves on each cadet to furnish his own uniform, which is of a style to serve at all times as an ordinary dress suit. (See under the heading "Expenses.")

SOCIETIES.

Since its inception, the University has encouraged and maintained societies looking to the various interests of the students. The following societies deserve particular mention:

THE PHILALETHIC SOCIETY

was organized in 1832. Its object is to foster a taste for eloquence, history and general literature. The members assemble every week in their hall for debates, or for the discussion of carefully prepared essays.

THE SODALITY OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN

was erected in 1835. Its object is the promotion of piety and virtue among its members, by the practice of devotion towards the Blessed Virgin Mary. It comprises two distinct organizations, one for the Senior, and the other for the Junior students.

was established to encourage useful reading. It possesses a choice collection of over 4000 volumes in the various departments of English literature, selected with a view to the needs of College students.

In connection with the Library is a reading-room which affords ample opportunities for acquiring information upon current topics and forming sound opinions upon important questions. Leading magazines, reviews and journals, and a valuable collection of works of reference are at the service of the members.

THE JUNIOR LITERARY SOCIETY.

Its object is to prepare its members for the Philalethic Society.

Mens sana in corpore sano.

The object of this Association is to foster a college spirit, and to encourage healthy physical exercise.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

Organized in 1889, the Alumni Association has for its object "to strengthen the ties which unite the members to each other and to the Institution at which they were educated." The Constitution provides that any graduate or student of the St. Louis University may become a member of the Association, subject to the rules therein specified. Meetings for the purpose of social reunion are held in one of the College halls at stated times.

ALUMNI ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

Organized in 1899, the object of the Association is "to promote an interest among old students in the athletic supremacy of the St. Louis University, to encourage the members of the student body in athletic competition, to manage and control the athletic activities of the Institution and when necessary to furnish funds towards that end, and to foster a lively College spirit by attendance at contests in which St. Louis University athletes compete."

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the College, who are not personally known to some member of the faculty, must present testimonials of good moral character. Students who seek admission to advanced classes must pass a satisfactory examination upon all subjects previously studied by the class which they wish to enter.

For Admission to the Third Academic Class a successful examination will be required in the following subjects:

English Grammar—Orthography and Etymology. Goold Brown's Grammar or some work of equal grade.

Spelling—Of words used in ordinary polite conversation.

Arithmetic—Compound Numbers and Common and Decimal Fractions. (Ray's New Practical Arithmetic, or equivalent.)

Geography—The United States. (Appleton's Standard Elementary, or equivalent.)

For Entrance into the Preparatory Class.

1st. The applicant must know how to read, write and spell creditably.

2d. He should know Arithmetic as far as Long Division included.

Examinations for admission are held the last week in August.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

The Academic Year consists of one session, beginning on the first Monday of September and ending in the last week of June, when the Annual Commencement, the Conferring of Degrees and the Distribution of Premiums take place.

Punctual attendance is strictly insisted upon.

Parents are regularly informed of the non-attendance of their sons, who, in case of absence, are invariably required to bring a note of excuse to the Vice-President. In order that the lessons may be prepared with proper assiduity, parents are requested to insist on their sons' studying at home for two or three hours every evening.

The daily work of the students counts one-half for honors.

The College is open every morning at 8 o'clock. Those who come before the time of class proceed at once to the class-rooms, and devote the interval to private study. All are required to be present five minutes before 8:30 o'clock, at which hour the Catholic students hear Mass. At 9 o'clock a. m., the regular exercises of class commence, closing at about 3 p. m.

Students who do not reside in the near vicinity of the University may not leave the College grounds during the noon recess without the written consent of their parents.

Thursday is the weekly recreation day.

Thorough written examinations are made in all the classes in October, December, February and April.

These examinations are competitive and are followed by distribution of premiums. The percentage obtained by the students is publicly proclaimed, and honors are awarded to the leaders.

A MEDAL OF EXCELLENCE is awarded to the student who makes the highest percentage in the collective branches of his class. Those who make 90 per cent. and upwards merit the distinction of FIRST HONORS, and those who gain between 85 and 90, SECOND HONORS. Besides these incentives to general endeavor, first and second prizes are given for excellence in each of the branches of every class, but the percentage must be at least 85 in the Collegiate Course, and 80 in the Academic. At the distribution of premiums testimonials of excellent deportment are given to deserving students. Reports of the conduct and class-standing of students are sent, after each distribution, to parents and guardians. The premiums at the close of the session are bestowed upon those who have made the highest average percentage in daily work and written examinations. The final written examinations for promotion take place in June. For the privilege of graduate's address at commencement a class-standing of 85 per cent. will be required.

Parents who wish to withdraw their sons before the end of the session are respectfully requested to give due notice of their intention to the Vice-President.

For faults committed outside the premises, the officers of the College are by no means responsible, as students then cease to be under their jurisdiction; still, should any serious charge be substantiated, the guilty shall be punished according to the gravity of the offense.

Whoever damages the College property must make compensation. The use of profane language or anything bordering on immorality will subject the offender to expulsion.

EXPENSES.

As the Institution is not endowed, it is entirely dependent for its support on the fees paid for tuition. Tuition, per session of ten months, for all classes, $60.00.

Students of Physics and Chemistry pay $10.00 per session for the lecture-table apparatus and $5.00 for laboratory materials. A small sum is deposited with the Treasurer for breakage.

Diplomas for the graduates in the Classical, Scientific and Post-Graduate Course, $10.00.

Certificate for the completion of the English Course, $5.00.

Cadet Suit, ranging from $9.50 to $17.50.

Payments must be made quarterly or semi-annually in advance. The account for tuition dates from the day of the student's entrance. No deduction is allowed for absence, except in case of dismissal or protracted illness. The session is divided into quarters, beginning respectively about the 1st of September, the 15th of November, the 1st of February, and the 15th of April.

For further information address the President of the University.

A quarterly publication, first issued by the members of the Junior Class of 1899-1900 as a class journal, and later adopted as the representative journal of the undergraduates of the St. Louis University.

Its object is to foster and promote among the students a taste for literary work, by affording frequent and careful practice in every species of literary composition. It is further intended as a chronicle of collegiate life and as a bond of union between the undergraduates and former students of the University.

The hope is entertained that, in the near future, the substantial aid of our friends and of the Alumni Association will make it possible for the students to issue "The Fleur-de-Lis" monthly.
